Although he could never be sure what would happen when he squeezed the trigger, the familiar “click-click wheeze” of his customized glue carbine’s heating unit gave Hank some much needed reassurance. To his left was Avinç with her chem pistol. To his right: “Masha” the Marsayan, easily picked out by the glints of moonlight reflecting off her gigantic, gemlike eyes. Around them in the darkness he could faintly see other crew members clutching their makeshift weapons.

Ahead, the Karist emplacement was barely visible. Hank checked his chrono. It was nearly time. Briefly, his past flashed before him. His home world, gone. His hopes and dreams, gone. All the people from his youth: dead, missing, dispersed over the Edge and rimwards, in the employ of the Foundation, selected by the Remnant or... converted to the new faith. How long had it been? Broken for twenty-seven years. He was still alive. And she... she was somewhere across this no-mans land, inside that emplacement.

She had not recognized him. It was not just the passage of twenty-seven years. Hank barely recognized his own reflection, these days. From budding musician to Broken privateer, who’d have thought? The change had come with more than just gray hairs and some wrinkles. It took some very specific knowledge of a very specific night in the Adeon to convince her who he was. She had tried to save him by introducing him to the Enclave. And now he was about to betray her friendship. If there were any other way... but there wasn’t. He’d learned the hard way that being Broken meant taking any opportunity, grasping at any straw. The Karist ship behind that emplacement was that straw.

Hank’s reflections were brutally cut short by the sound of Pa’ku mortar shells crashing into the Karist position to the East. It would be a costly diversion, but there was no more time, no point keeping anything back. Hank saw the dim silhouette of the Chieftain, Rejis, raise his arm and motion the patrol to advance. They moved up silently, picking their footing, even though no one would hear them over the sound of the artillery. Hank broke into a run. A hundred yards. Fifty. Did somebody shoot? No time to check. Keep running. The outer fence, then the door. They hugged the wall. Avinç placed a charge and moments later the door was gone. The crew milling about the doorway, momentarily caught up as they all tried to push through at once. Run fast down the hall and then left. There was no resistance. There was nothing here of any value, and the few guards in this wing were drawn away by the artillery barrage. The crew was taking the long way round.

Then, a scream. An alien scream. One of his? Again, louder, ahead. A black shape appeared. Oh ... crap. Did glue stick to angels?

BROKEN SPECIAL RULES

ABILITIES

MOB MENTALITY: If its squad leader has this ability, this unit has a modifier on its WP tests based on the number of models currently in the unit:

- 4 models = +1
- 5 or more models = +2

SHADOW STRIKE: Up to 1 unit in reserve per turn with this ability may arrive via the OUT OF THE SHADOWS action:

OUT OF THE SHADOWS: Movement Action - This unit may be placed in any valid position on the table not within 12" of any enemy and with all models in the unit touching a terrain feature. You must expend 1 CP to have a reinforcement arrive via OUT OF THE SHADOWS.

INTO THE SHADOWS: In the end phase of each turn, before calculating VPs, you may select 1 friendly unit with the SHADOW STRIKE ability that started the turn on the table, is not within 12" of any enemy and has all of its models touching a terrain feature. Take an Into the Shadows test for that unit: Roll a D6, and if the result equals or exceeds the suppression level of the selected unit, the test is passed. A natural result of 1 always fails and a natural result of 6 always passes. If the test is passed, remove the unit from the table and place it into reserve, maintaining its current suppression level.

DESIGNATORS

FORSAKEN, JACKAL & SARA: The Broken have three sub-faction designators: FORSAKEN, JACKAL and SARA. All of your command units must share the same sub-faction designator. Character models cannot join friendly units that do not share the same sub-faction designator as them.

In addition, any unit in your force that does not have one of these sub-faction designators listed in their unit entry gains one matching that of your command units. For example, if your command units have the SARA designator, then your Broken Rabble units would also gain the SARA designator. Add-on models automatically gain the sub-faction designator of the unit they are added to.

According to legend, the first Spiral Arm Revolutionary Army company was formed by the efforts of General Aivus Grumman of the Brennan 3 Planetary Security Force shortly after the events of Sarjana. Outraged by the treatment of the system's citizens when the Maelstrom arrived, General Grumman gathered the support of a number of other military leaders and led an organized revolt against Brennan's ruling caste. Seizing several shipyards and docking facilities, the revolutionaries organized a controlled evacuation of as much of the system's population as they could to safer systems that were, for now, beyond the Maelstrom's reach.

Following this initial success, General Grumman allegedly led forces to other afflicted systems, leading evacuations and gathering recruits from local military or security forces, growing SARA into a massive organization. This eventually brought Grumman's exploits to the attention of Karist and Foundation leadership, who both made efforts to wipe out the revolutionary to maintain their own control over systems on the Edge.

Detractors of SARA allege that there is no existing record of a General Aivus Grumman having served on Brennan 3, although this may admittedly be due to incomplete records surviving the destruction of the system. While stories abound of the General appearing in person on beleaguered planets or amongst forces raiding Foundation and Remnant shipping, they often seemingly take place in multiple systems light-years apart at the same time. No holo-record of any of these events appears to exist and descriptions of the General from survivors of these encounters vary wildly. As a result, there remains some doubt not only as to the general's species and gender, but even whether this legendary character ever actually existed to begin with.

SCOUT: When deploying your force, this unit may be set up in no-man's land, provided it is still entirely on your half of the table (measured from your reserve table edge). Alternatively, scout units in reserve may make a flanking maneuver.

UNSTABLE: Each hit roll result of 1 raises this unit's suppression level by +1 (after the round of shooting).

XENOS HELPER: This unit is able to utilize FRAG GRENADES when shooting or charging without the usual requirement of 1 model in the unit losing their ability to fire in return.

UNIT DESIGNATORS: Organic.

HIGH POWER DISRUPTOR: Suppressive Fire only - Automatically raise the target's suppression level by an additional +2. In addition, until the end of the turn the target gains the MISSION SPECIALIST ability (see below) and cannot have any orders issued to it. BROKEN FACTION OBJECTIVES

Now You See Me

The Broken rarely look to face off against an evenly matched foe. The Forsaken in particular rely upon strategies of cunning and misdirection to take the day.

This objective may only be chosen if your force commander has the FORSAKEN designator.

This objective can generate up to 3 VPs per game, after which you may no longer use the Now You Don't ability.

- (EACH END PHASE) This turn, if at least one of your units was put into reserve via the Shadow Strike ability and the Now You Don't ability was not used at all, gain 1 VP.
- (FINAL TURN END PHASE) If at least one of your models on the table has the FORSAKEN designator, gain all of this objective's remaining VPs.

Now You Don't: Once per turn, when you remove one of your units from the table via the Shadow Strike ability, you may either immediately lower its suppression level to 0, or return 1 non-character model back to the unit that had previously been removed as a casualty.

ROAD TO VALHALLA

Nothing is more important to Broken Jackals than proving one's abilities in combat. They enter battle in a blood-crazed state, desperate to fight the enemy face-to-face.

This objective may only be utilized if your force commander has the JACKAL designator*.

This objective can generate up to 3 VPs per game, after which you may no longer utilize the CRAZED MANIACS ability.

- Each round of CQ Fighting where an enemy unit is destroyed, gain 1 VP.

Crazed Maniacs: Anytime one of your units finishes a round of CQ Fighting and the enemy unit is not destroyed, then before resolving any CQ Fighting results (such as taking a CQ WP Test), your unit can immediately perform a free CQ Fighting action against that same enemy unit. A unit cannot perform more than 1 free CQ Fighting action per activation.

Note that there are no Jackal commanders at time of printing, but these will be released in future!*

MORAL HIGH GROUND

The Spiral Arm Revolutionary Army routinely distributes propaganda on any world in which they fight, reminding their enemies of the implacable horror of the Maelstrom and the billions of innocent souls it has already consumed.

This objective may only be utilized if your force commander has the SARA designator.

This objective can generate up to 3 VPs per game, after which you may no longer utilize the PROPAGANDA ability:

- (EACH END PHASE) The PROPAGANDA ability can generate 1 VP per turn, see below for full details.
- (FINAL TURN END PHASE) If at least one of your models on the table has the SARA designator, gain all of this objective's remaining VPs.

Propaganda: Immediately after your opponent finishes their "Retire Units" portion of the end phase, nominate one enemy ARMORED or ORGANIC model on the table with FOR 1. Your opponent must immediately remove any one of their ARMORED or ORGANIC, FOR 1 models from the table as a casualty, however if they choose to remove a model other than the one you nominated, gain 1 VP. If your opponent has no ARMORED or ORGANIC FOR 1 models on the table to nominate, you automatically gain 1 VP and may raise the suppression level of a single enemy unit on the table by +1.
